

Fiber Optic Illuminator

Abstract of Disclosure

An array of optical fibers are circularly arranged in a horizontal plane to totally encompass an isotropic radiator. This configuration efficiently captures the radiated light and is amenable to a large family of radiators without the need for critical alignment between the radiator and the fiber optic array.

